Subject: Skinwalker Ranch

This report is about Skinwalker Ranch and some of the history from Indian tribes to modern “spooky” activities and what does it all mean ? The bottom line is that all the strange and evil things from Indian history until now are the brutal evil of the fallen angels and their hybrids as well as human minions. The thing to keep in your mind is that the fallen angels will use deception, intimidation, and any form of twisting the truth to keep humans from seeing the true meaning behind the things people see and hear.

The sheer number of incidents around Skinwalker Ranch, the number of different eyewitnesses, and the general reputation of this part of northeastern Utah, has led many to take the case more seriously than other UFO hotspots. There’s also the connection to Native American folklore to consider.

The very name, Skinwalker Ranch, alludes to one of the most feared entities in Navajo culture and history: skinwalkers are reputed to be malevolent witches who mastered the ability of changing into different creatures. The hulking, wolf-like beast confronted by the Shermans (which seemed to resemble the large, long-extinct dire wolf that used to prowl North America) as well as other creatures seen by NIDS observers, have been linked to legends of skinwalkers in the region.

Intriguingly, there is a long-standing local legend linking the presence of skinwalkers to hostile relations between two Native American peoples, the Navajo and the Utes. In the words of historian Sondra Jones, author of Being and Becoming Ute, “The Navajo were more aggressive people, they took slaves, they had Ute slaves.” And, according to the local legend, a territorial dispute led the Navajo to curse the land and unleash skinwalkers there.

As true believers in Jesus and the cleansing and healing power of his blood it is clear to see that what is manifesting itself is many evil spirits to cause people to lose their way in life.

It is through several people who spent time and money to in fact to try and profit by using the science and mysteries surrounding the ranch and “Spooky” things happening to people after they have visited or stayed at the ranch.

Here are some key things regarding the ranch:

- 1 The titular ranch experiences paranormal activity regularly from UFOs and cattle mutilations to incarnate voices and poltergeists...and sometimes several at the same time. Strange occurrences on the ranch have been the focus of several scientific investigations, including from a secretive program housed in the Pentagon. What is not as well known is that some investigators claim the paranormal phenomena follow them home. Brandon Fugal, the elusive owner of Skinwalker Ranch, spoke with Den of Geek about how what happens at Skinwalker Ranch doesn’t always stay there.
- 2 Fugal says he didn’t think much more about the ranch until 2015 when two science advisors of another Utah real estate magnate, Robert Bigelow, approached him. Bigelow, who also founded Bigelow Aerospace, had been funding scientific investigation on the ranch since he had purchased it in the late 1990s. Kelleher was Bigelow’s lead investigator.
- 3 According to Fugal, the advisors asked him “whether I would be willing to entertain a potential joint venture or acquisition of the property for the purpose of advancing the research beyond what Mr. Bigelow had done for 20 years.”
- 4 “I disclosed to them that I was approaching the topic as a healthy skeptic and that I had never seen a UFO, ghost, or anything of the sort, and that I believe that there was most likely a natural prosaic explanation for what had been reported in the book and on the property,” Fugal says. “They were amused and shared with me the reality of what their investigation revealed. They also disclosed that the ranch had been part of a five-year Pentagon black-budget program studying the UFO phenomenon and that, although the results of that investigation remain classified and confidential – how do I say this? The phenomenon is real.” Fugal says he is no longer skeptical that something mysterious is happening at the ranch.

- 5 Now we get to the deeper science part. Studies have discovered a structure 62.5 miles deep beneath the ranch and a cloaking signal at 1.6 Ghz that keeps coming on and jamming and shutting down all their instruments-also cloaked craft directly beneath the helicopter at 60 feet below the fuselage that flies the same course as the helicopter mimicing every move also below the cessna that flew over the triangle area also in a grid pattern-also 2 weeks prior a national science foundation gulfstream flew a grid pattern over skin walker ranch at 45,000 feet.
- 6 A search in deep hidden databases yielded the following information:
 - 6.1 This is the basic description of the facility located deep under skin walker ranch Specifications of shielded command and control base for North America:
 - 6.1.1 Depth of top floor is sixty two and one half miles below the surface. The reason to provide clear signal shielding for the deep space communications system.
 - 6.1.2 The triangle above the antenna exit is to be guarded at all times to prevent signal capture by humans.
 - 6.1.3 The frequency of the core communications system is one point six five ghz to avoid the energy absorbing of water at two point four ghz.
 - 6.1.4 Peak pulse power is to be fifty gigawatts using pulse density modulation
 - 6.1.5 The transmission system is to be able to send twelve independent parallel modulated signal streams. The communications system must have backup support systems so that the twelve data streams are available at all times.
 - 6.1.6 The base size is to be one mile in diameter with twelve floors.
 - 6.1.7 Service communications with Antarctica will be maintained at all times using the planet wide sub surface communications system.
 - 6.2 This is basic specifications of the circular shield designed to protect the open area above of the command and control base region one North America.
 - 6.2.1 The plasma shield is a hemisphere which touches the below ground shield to make a complete covering over the base.
 - 6.2.2 The plasma field is designed in the normal way for fully protected bases.
 - 6.2.2.1 It is able to open synchronized to the following things:
 - 6.2.2.1.1 So that data transmissions may occur through the shield without any signal leakage.
 - 6.2.2.1.2 So that energy weapons may fire through the shield without any leakage.
 - 6.2.2.1.3 So that special optical systems may look though the shield without any light leakage through the shield.

6.2.3 The shield can appear as:

6.2.3.1 The shield can be presented as a dull absorbent surface

6.2.3.2 The shield can also be set as a 100 percent high gloss reflective surface

6.2.4 Because there is a need to place some sensors and devices above the surface the yet below the shield the shield extends from the ground level to one mile above the surface

6.2.5 The shield is powered by the planet wide power grid

6.2.6 The protective shields of this base have no use restrictions on power consumed

6.2.7 The shield is also able to be used as a plasma based star gate which is fully shielded and cloaked during operations.

7 THE BASE UNDER SKINWALKER RANCH IS IN FACT THE SECONDARY GLOBAL COMMAND AND CONTROL BASE BEHIND ANTARCTICA WHICH IS THE PRIMARY GLOBAL COMMAND AND CONTROL BASE. THE REASON IT IS NOT MASSIVE LIKE THE OTHER BASES IS BECAUSE IT IS STRICTLY A COMMAND AND CONTROL CENTER BEING PREPARED FOR THE COMING WAR BETWEEN HEAVEN AND THE FALLEN ANGELS.
